

Tips for choosing used furniture and finding a store

As for second-hand furniture, it's nice to be able to buy branded furniture from your favorite store and popular designer furniture at a low price. If you want to get good furniture cheaply, you definitely want to use it wisely.

However, even if I wanted to find second-hand furniture, I had a wide range of choices and had a hard time choosing it, or I was worried about the degree of damage and usability, so I couldn't decide. I think that many people are stressed when choosing used furniture because it is a big purchase.

So, here are some tips for choosing used furniture and finding a store. We will talk about points to keep in mind when purchasing used furniture, popular brands by taste, confirmation points by item, etc. without exception. In the second half, we will tell you about the troubles that may occur in used furniture and the tips of purchasing request when you want to sell it, so if you read this, you should know all about used furniture! Please take a look so that you will not fail in choosing used furniture.

If you want to buy high quality used furniture and brand furniture, go to a used furniture store with a repair workshop.

If you want high quality used furniture or luxury brand furniture, we recommend buying it at a used furniture store or antique furniture store that has a repair workshop. A store with a repair workshop sells only furniture that has been firmly repaired according to the store's standards, unlike a thrift shop that simply sells and buys furniture. If you have a store with high repair technology, you should have furniture at a level that dispels the image of general used furniture. There is a high possibility that there are skilled repair craftsmen at stores that post their commitment to repairs on their websites, or at stores that have a large number of sales records.

If you want the highest quality second-hand furniture, you should definitely check out the second-hand furniture from Rafuju Kobo. The antique furniture repair craftsmen put an emphasis on practical use, repair and maintain it, and sell it, so the quality is almost comparable to that of new furniture.

In addition, since we handle many exhibits and beauty products that are not very comfortable to use, it is a perfect second-hand furniture store for those who want to buy beautiful second-hand furniture at a reasonable price.

If you are looking for cheap used furniture and home appliances, a comprehensive recycle shop

If you want to get used furniture and home appliances cheaply because price is more important than quality, we recommend a general recycle shop. The quality and condition of furniture may be poor, but you can get furniture cheaply because you are competing for the price. It is perfect for when you want to have a complete set of furniture and home appliances within your budget, such as when you start living alone.

If you are looking for furniture and equipment for stores and businesses such as offices, hotels, restaurants, etc., it is recommended to check out second-hand furniture stores dedicated to business use. With a professional assortment specializing in commercial furniture, prices tend to be cheaper than in personal stores. If you buy them in bulk, you may get a further discount, so it's a good idea to request a quote first. By the way, commercial furniture stores often do not sell for private homes. Please note that it is not suitable when looking for furniture for home use.

If you are looking for used Japanese retro furniture, we recommend checking out the Japanese vintage furniture from the Showa period, which is sold at antique furniture stores. The furniture that has been used for many years has a taste that modern furniture cannot bring out, and it is a perfect item for those who like retro style. Many of the furniture in the Showa period has a simple and standard design like Karimoku 60, and if you like retro furniture, you will love it.

I want to sell used furniture! Points for choosing a purchaser

Finally, for those who want to sell used furniture that they have used, I would like to introduce the points for choosing a purchaser. Auctions and flea markets are popular these days, but although they may sell well, it is inconvenient for busy people because they have to do everything from listing to shipping. In that respect, it is attractive that if you ask the purchaser, you can do everything else if you ask.

This time, we will introduce the companies that are suitable for each furniture genre, as to what kind of company you should ask for the purchase to sell at the highest price.
